TRAGEDY ON THE STEAMER.

Two Cowboys Made Disturbance on Steamer Dubuque Opposite Davenport and Are Shot.

THE MATE WAS TOO QUICK FOR THEM.

Tried Wild West Tactics and Attempted to Run the Boat, But Were Finished.

A shooting affray on the Diamond Jo liner Dubuque, running between St. Louis and St. Paul, resulted yesterday afternoon in the death of two patent medicine sellers, who called themselves "Christopher Leonidas & Son, the Long Haired Men."

The men boarded the boat at Rock Island wearing sombreros, guns and bowies, and were soon quarreling with the crew, and finally clashed with Mate Dan Breen. The strangers wore marksmen's medals and are said to have given shooting exhibitions, but the mate's gun was first out, and before the others got the range they were down, the older man with a bullet in the groin that came out at his back. The younger man retreated but a bullet from the mate's revolver brought him down. The old man died immediately and the younger man while on the way to the hospital.

The men had been selling medicines in Rock Island and took passage for MacGregor, Iowa. They were a peculiar-looking pair, long braided hair hanging over their shoulders, the father wearing a tawny beard. Besides their revolvers and knives each carried a blacksnake whip, with which they struck at the negro roustabouts when they came near. The passengers gave them a wide berth.

Their bullying manners led Mate Breen to suggest that they take off their belts and leave their arms with the clerk. This request brought out profane replies and motions toward their weapons that led the mate to draw and shoot. At the first shot the younger man clasped his hand to his side, "Father, let up," he cried, "I'm shot." By this time the mate's bullets had found the older man, who fell to the deck with two holes through him.

Breen was arrested, but was exonerated by a coroner's jury and released after four hours' detention. He is a veteran river man, about 55 years of age, and has a family at Dubuque.

"It was my life or theirs," he said after his release. "They were bad, been bullying the crew, called down the captain and were after me. I knew it was kill or be killed. They wanted to run the boat and I couldn't let them."

Grip Is Taken.

Visitors who came to Dixon by train last evening, on their way to the DeFrain home on Second street, where they are visiting today, stopped in at the home of Mrs. Mary C. Clayton. They left several satchels and grips on the hitching block while at the latter place. After leaving the Clayton residence and getting nearly to their destination they found they had left a small grip on the hitching block. Upon going back to get it, it had disappeared. It is thought that some one took it, thinking it lost, and intends to advertise its finding.

Mail Contract.

Edward Stroup was awarded the contract to carry mail to and from the post office and depots and transfer between the depots. His bid was $559. Other bids were made by Louis Green, Geo. Cupp, Jas. Blackburn and Henry Morey. The next higher bid was $600. Mr. Stroup will begin his work Monday morning, July 14th.

Jolly Camping Crowd.

The party of young people from Bloomington are enjoying a taste of real camping weather at the Woodruff camp near White Rock. The members of the party are Misses Ethel Stylles, Lillian Arnold, Gertrude Means, Mrs. Hause, Messrs. Rob Cowles, Mercer Davis and John Morrison of Bloomington, Miss Stephens of Dixon and James Allen of Chicago

Spanish-American War Veterans.

There will be a meeting at the Armory this evening of the Spanish American war veterans to select delegates to the state convention at Springfield on July 24.

Sacred Concert.

A sacred concert will be given at the Methodist church Sunday evening by the choir under the direction of Mrs. G. C. Heritage. Program will be be printed tomorrow.

Late Telegrams

Entombed Miners.

Special to THE TELEGRAPH:

JOHNSTON, Pa., July 11—Eighty-seven stark and blackened bodies have so far been recovered from Cambria Company's mine. Another searching party headed by the mine superintendent entered the mine at half past nine o'clock this morning. Those on the outside do not expect the arrival of any more victims on the surface until late this afternoon.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED.

At Meeting Last Night of Nachusa Encampment No. 115, I. O. O. F.

The members of Nachusa Encampment No. 115, I. O. O. F., met last night in regular session at their hall for installation of officers. The installing officer was District Deputy Charles W. Dey and he was assisted by C. Gonnerman, E. E. Fischer and O. B. Anderson. The officers elect were chosen at the last meeting in June and are as follows:

Chief Patriarch—R. L. Johnson.
Senior Warden—Olander Sandberg.
High Priest—Waldo Ward.
Junior Warden—Dr. C. A. Robbins.
Outside Sentinel—Peter Mencen.
Inside Sentinel—Henry Hasselberg.

The above will serve for six months, while Scribe C. Gonnerman and Treasurer E. E. Fischer, elected last December, will serve one year. At the next meeting the seven appointive officers will be announced by Chief Patriarch R. L. Johnson.

Not a Burglar.

There were no burglars prowling around Bluff Park last Tuesday night as the newspaper reporters have been reporting. Doctor Moore heard some one cutting the screen in a neighbor's window and very properly telephoned for the police, and two officers were promptly on hand to arrest the bold bad robbers; but there were no robbers to arrest. The screen was cut by a good citizen who lost his night key and could not enter his own home without making considerable noise. The disturbance was not at the Morrison residence where Doctor Moore thought he heard the house breaking racket. As to where the trouble was does not matter. It is not a public affair, so the parties say.

At the Presbyterian Church.

The General Theme of the morning services at the Presbyterian church during the month of July will be "The Earthly foot prints of the man of Gallilee" as follows:

July 13—The Silent Years.
July 20—The Friendship of Jesus.
July 27—Behold the Man.

Quail.

Amboy Journal: In spite of the wet season the Inlet flats will be pretty well supplied with quail. This is good news to the sportsman, as in many localities the nests were washed out and in many instances the young birds drowned.

Good For the Lazy Man.

The lazy man who objects to winding up the ordinary alarm clock, or even the eight day clock, would find a world of pleasure in the one in C. C. Burkhart's show window. This clock runs 400 days with one winding and is a handsome timepiece.

Will Be Brakeman.

Murray King, news agent on the Sterling passenger, has passed a successful examination for passenger brakeman, and will on Tuesday take the place of Fred Kauffman of Sterling on the same run. Mr. Kauffman will spend two weeks in Arkansas.

Dinner Party.

Lex Andrus will tonight entertain thirteen of his friends with a dinner party at the Sheffield Hotel, Grand Detour, in honor of his guests, Willard and Richard Hosford of Moline.

New Director.

The stockholders of the Dixon Water Company held a meeting this morning and elected John B. Crabtree a member of the board of directors.

BAND IS HIRED FOR PEORIA

Watson-Plummer Musicians Will Accompany Merchants' Excursion.

INDICATIONS OF LARGE ATTENDANCE

Few People Will Be Left Here on July 23 and the Day Will Be a Very Quiet One in Dixon.

At the meeting of the committee last evening it was voted to hire the Watson-Plummer band to accompany the Retail Merchants' excursion to Peoria on July 23. This will be an attraction which will cause many more persons to attend. Among the many attractions at Peoria will be an excursion on the steamer City of Peoria and barge Pearl on the river. The steamer will leave just before noon for an up-river excursion of twelve miles. Dinner will be served on the barge and the boats will return in plenty of time for all to go to the beautiful parks and other points of interest about the city. Dixon will be practically deserted on the day in question and the person who likes "a real quiet time" can be easily satisfied. The prudent housewife will bear in mind the fact that the stores will all be closed and so order the household supplies the day previous.

Will Build $5,000 Residence.

Architect M. H. Vail yesterday let the contract to Elmer Uhl for a fine residence to be built by R. J. Bennett at Chula Vista Park, North Dixon. The contract price is $4,800, but mantels, gas fixtures and other extras will make the cost exceed $5,000. The house is a handsome design of semi-California style.

Fire at L. B. Neighbor Home.

Sparks from the chimney caught in the kitchen roof at the L. B. Neighbour residence last evening about 6:30 o'clock. The flames were noticed before they had much of a start by Sidney, the nine-year-old son of the professor. The garden hose soon quenched the blaze before much damage was done.

Crushed Under Wheels.

Five-year-old Frank Hilgendorf of Lyons, Iowa, was instantly killed late Thursday afternoon by falling in front of the hind wheels of a heavily loaded wagon. One of the wheels passed over his back. The boy with others, had been ordered away by the driver before the accident occurred.

Case at Oregon.

Zach Adams of Grand Detour is defendant in a suit for cruelty to animals which will come up at Oregon Tuesday. The complaining witness is Charles Flick and the case is brought through the instrumentality of the Dixon Humane Society.

Big Suit Sale.

S. Rosenthal & Son have a large half page ad in tonight's paper and announce their annual $10 Suit sale, which they make a specialty of each year and which has always proved a great succes. They offer any suit in the store for ten dollars.

Band Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Watson-Plummer band this evening at 8 o'clock.

—Editor DeWitt C. Owens went to Rockford today.

—Arthur Phillips, son of Dr. Phillip a former resident of Dixon, is here from the West visiting.

—Messrs. George Shields, George Schorr and Walter Worthington enjoyed an up-river excursion today to Schorr's Park.

—Ed H. Hughes of Peoria avenue was taken the Dixon hospital last evening where tonight or tomorrow morning an operation will be performto relieve his sufferings.

—Prof. B. F. Bullard received a letter today from S. A. Forbes, professor of entemology at the state uuiversity, acknowledging the receipt of specimens of seventeen-year locust sent by him and taken from a two-foot excavation in A. H. Tillson's yard. Prof. Forbes says the insects ought to be out in this section now, judging from the specimens.

A LAWN MOWER DILEMNA.
An Irishman became very sick from riding backwards in a railroad car before he reached his destination. "Why didn't you ask someone to change seats with you?" asked a friend. "Well", he says, "that's what I should have done but unfortunately I was alone."
We were thinking over the matter of changing our Garland Lawn Mowers at the beginning of this season, for some other right good mower. But unfortunately the Garland was alone. There didn't seem to be any lawn mowers made that possesed a reputation that would put them in the Glarland's class.
Out of 400 Garland Mowers sold by us, $5 will cover all the repairs we have made on them. How's that for a record?

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constiutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoon. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

—The next time you wish you could be a woman and wear a mother-hubbard these warm days, think how it must feel to have a bundle of hair on the top of your head. We don't suppose there ever was a girl so proud of her hat she didn't wish in summer that she was baldheaded.

CAUTION

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase for 75c the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps; but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

ELECTRICAL LEAKAGE.

One of the Great Dangers Which Threaten Men.

The greatest dangers which threaten man are generally invisible to the victim, and among these none is more productive of disastrous consequences than "electrical leakage," the selfsame leakage used by the natives of all hot climates to lower their temperatures. As no organic function can take place except by means of electrical currents, so it can be easily understood that if these currents leak from our bodies the loss of power must be distinctly harmful. A common instance of this loss of electricity from our bodies consists of what we call a nervous shock, the scientific explanation being that a sudden egress of electricity takes place owing to the violent mental impressions involuntarily forcing a current of power through channels which had not been previously open to receive them.

"This," remarked a scientist, "is but one case among a thousand of the ways in which we uselessly expend our vital power. The electrical waste of a person is entirely due to his surroundings—the seat upon which you sit, the table upon which you write, the floor, the ceiling, the fireplace, the rays and colors of light which surround you, all may be instrumental in absorbing your electricity, to the great detriment of your health. Red or yellow light waves excite electricity within you, blue and violet waves exhaust it, while green waves are practically neutral in their effect.

"The air you breathe places you in direct communication with the walls, windows or hearth of your room; if, owing to the manner in which they are constructed, they place you in electrical communication with the soil on which your house is built, an 'earth return' is formed, and the electricity in man's condenser—the brain—is drawn out of the body. When one stands in the vicinity of a place of electrical exhaustion one ought to face it, as the base of the skull and spine, being the center of the nervous system, are more sensitive to outside influences than is the more covered front of the body. This is why one feels so tired when sitting with one's back to a fire; the flames serve as conductors and extract the force from the exposed nervous centers."—Pearson's Magazine.

NATURAL HISTORY.

A whale can remain under water for an hour and a half.

A lion in a jungle will jump twenty-five or thirty feet from a standing start.

A horsefly will live for hours after its head has been pulled off. The head of the mosquito hawk will continue eating its victim when separated from the thorax.

Mud wasps manifest great ingenuity not only in building their nests, but in placing them in localities where they will not be followed by rain or predacious animals.

The gray lizzard is said to be the heaviest bird that flies, the young males when food is plentiful weighing nearly forty pounds. The bird is nearly extinct.

The wasp, like the bee and almost every other insect, is infested with parasites. Wasps have been captured which had two or three dozen parasites clinging to their bodies.

The alligator never leaves fresh water, while the crocodile often goes to sea and in the West Indies has sometimes been found many miles from land, heading directly for an island, possibly out of sight.

The Tyranny of Trivial Things.

The great emotional experiences of life are belittled by the same insistence upon the trivial. Life and love look into each other's eyes, a man and woman elect each other from all the world, but the joyful solemnity of marriage is ruffled by the details of the wedding, perhaps by family squabbles over flowers and gowns and invitations. Or great death comes in at the door, and the little human soul, overwhelmed with grief, appalled by the sudden opening of eternity before its eyes, yet fusses (there is no other word for it) over "mourning," over the width of the hem of the veil or the question of crape buttons or dull jet. This may be shocking or mournful or ludicrous, as one happens to look at it, but it is certainly uncivilized.—Harper's Bazar.

LIBRARY HOSPITALS

A QUIET CORNER WHERE MAIMED AND AGED BOOKS ARE DOCTORED.

Delicate Operations Are Often Necessary For Injured Volumes and Much Ingenuity Is Required at Times—How Book Surgeons Work.

In every up to date public library there is a quiet corner used as a book hospital, where worn, aged and maimed volumes are sent for treatment and often surgical operations. The women and children of the library—that is, the novels and juveniles—are found in the hospital the most frequently, and often they are beyond cure. But the skillful library worker has all sorts of devices for making broken down books appear fresh and new again, and often a remarkable cure is effected.

If a book were cast aside the minute its back was broken or were not given proper treatment when a leaf became loose, the library would soon find itself doubling expenses for duplicates of old volumes and with little money for new works. Careful treatment, on the other hand, will add years to the life of a book and will materially lessen the expenses of a public library.

This hospital is fitted up in a very simple manner. There are shelves upon which the invalid books are placed until treatment can be given them. Then there are other shelves where they are placed to convalesce and sometimes to regain consciousness after a serious surgical operation. There are operating tables and neat little boxes in which there are rolls of black percale and yards of white percale, sheets of paraffin paper, long strips of thin but fine quality paper, narrow rolls of gummed paper, bundles of grass cloth, balls of string, sandpaper, coarse thread and white mull.

In snug little compartments is the medicine, consisting of glue and paste. The surgical instruments in a little case consist of a pair of forceps, a small wooden paddle, a thin wooden board and papers of needles. Then there is an instrument of torture—a heavy press which is generally applied at the close of an operation.

There are all sorts of complaints among the books, and the most prevalent is the broken back. This comes from the book assuming an unhealthful position, such as leaning up lazily against other books, resting on its front edges or lying flat on its side. A vigorous use of paste and glue often cures this complaint, but in some cases a delicate operation is resorted to.

Then the cover is stripped entirely off the back, and the title is carefully cut out. Next the paper back of the book is peeled off. A piece of grass cloth is then applied and firmly glued into its place. The old cover, with the exception of the title, is pasted on again, and then the book is tied up with strings and left on the shelf to recover a little. When strong enough, a black percale back is carefully fitted over the old back, and the old title is pasted on the outside.

Small fingers injure the complexion of the books greatly, and sandpaper is used a great deal on juvenile fiction invalids. The edges of the book are rubbed with this rough paper, taking off the dirt and the yellow appearance. Rough edges of leaves are frequent also in this branch of literature. These leaves are carefully trimmed off, and a thin strip of nice quality paper is pasted on to make a clean, regular edge.

"Butting" is a method of operating that is not used by all book surgeons. This consists in placing with the wooden paddle a thin line of glue on the edges of a torn leaf and then pressing them tightly together. It has been demonstrated thoroughly that this butting holds the torn leaf just as firmly as and is much more satisfactory than the old method of pasting gummed transparent paper over the torn places.

The loose leaves are a frequent source of annoyance to the book doctors. The remedy for these bothersome leaves is a hinge of percale or paper, which holds the unruly page in place after the heavy press has been brought to bear on the book. In such cases the thin board is always used to slip into the volume, so that it will keep its shape properly.

The operation which requires the most skill is the sewing of the signature or division of a book back into place. The needle and coarse thread are pushed in and out of the holes in the signature and the binding, and when it becomes awkward to use the fingers the slender forceps are used to draw the needle in and out.

It is part of the work of every public library employee to take a hand in the hospital department, and ingenuity supplies means to remedy every complaint that is conjured up by even the most erratic book. The book doctor trusts wholly to her own wit and skillful fingers to effect a cure, and there are few cases that are hopeless.—New York Mail and Express.

Cut Off.

"Poor child!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, who had been touched by the appeal to the extent of a quarter. "And how did this accident happen to your father?"

"Why," replied the bright little girl, "he begged so much money one day that he got drunk and was sent to jail."

"But you told me his arms were cut off."

"Oh, no, ma'am! I said 'alms.'"—Philadelphia Press.

By Their Crests, Perhaps.

She—So you have crossed the ocean sixty-four times. You must be getting used to it.

He—Yes, considerably. I have lately got so that I recognize over half the waves we meet.—Town and Country.

Small Fire at Rock Falls.

Sterling Gazette: "The Society hall, occupied by the Automobile engine works at Rock Falls was slightly damaged by fire Thursday morning, the loss being about $50. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue. A spark from the furnace of the engine works is supposed to have worked through the wall and fanned to a flame. A space about two and a half feet wide, and from the foundation of the building to the comb of the roof was burned.

Union Out Door Services.

The Union Service of last Sabbath evening was compelled by the storm to seek refuge in the Presbyterian church where a delightful meeting was held. Next Sabbath evening, the plans for the union out door service will be carried out at the same place on lot south of Nachusa House. The Evangelical pastor and church will join with the others in the remaining meetings. Should it rain again the service will be held in the Baptist church. There will be special music by a quartet under the leadership of Prof. Stoddard. A cornet will lead congregational singing. A dozen of the most standard hymns have been printed on cards to be used at these meetings. Comfortable seats will be provided. The committee having charge of these services are, on grounds and seatings Messrs. Frost Keyes and Farney; on music Messrs. Stoddard, Farney and Byington; on finance Messrs. Kost, Brown and Miller. Everyone is invited.

In the Mountains.

A. H. Tillson, Jr., in renewing his subscription to THE TELEGRAPH writes they now have a government postoffice at Rossevelt, Idaho county, Idaho, where they get mail regularly three time a week. Mail has heretofore reached there by private carrier 25 cents apiece for letters and they would not carry papers at any price. The letter was written July 2. It had snowed hard the night before and was snowing again that day.

Kansas Fruit.

W. J. Claypool, a general agent for land in Southern Kansas, was here today with Land Agent George Woodruff. Mr. Claypool claims that southern Kansas has a "nine months fruit season" and displayed fine samples of fruit just picked from the trees, such as early peaches, strawberry, June and early harvest apples, Japanese plums, etc.

Leave for West.

Mrs. Will Martin and daughter Cose left last night for Marcus Cherokee county, Iowa, to visit relatives for an indefinite length of time. The trip was made on account of the poor health of Miss Martin. If she receives little benefit in Iowa she will be taken to Colorado.

—Rev. Wm. C. Spencer will conduct service at Sugar Grove church Sunday afternoon.

VIRTUES OF LIGHT LUNCHES

American Acuteness Due In Part to the Midday Repasts.

A great many people feel they have done their whole duty by sound hygiene when they denounce the "quick lunch" of the American business world as the sum of all gastronomic iniquities. But in so far as [illegible] is a light lunch, and it usually is this, it may be a blessing in disguise. In fact, an observing foreigner lays much of the acuteness and business energy of Americans to the fact that for the most part the American business and professional man eats lightly, even if hurriedly, and drinks but little at the midday meal; hence his mind is clear, he is not sluggish and he is able to do a good deal between 1 o'clock and 6.

As a contrast the foreign observer mentions the heavy midday eating habits of certain European countries, notably Germany, and to that he attributes the lethargy that is calling for all the highest efforts of the best minds to counteract. In this he is in harmony with an American specialist, who in decrying a heavy midday meal said that "the plan of eating a heavy meal at noon and returning to work almost directly from the dinner table explains the prevalence of dyspepsia in countries not enjoying the long afternoon recess of the tropics." Since the light lunch and the quick lunch do not fit in with this criticism those who have blamed our national dyspepsia on the "busy man's bite" had better look a little further into the matter.

Perhaps we do eat too much, as certain diatetic specialists tell us, but it looks as if we were slowly approximating, the country over, to an ideal dietetic system, for Americans, which makes the lunch the slightest meal and the evening meal the most substantial meal of the day, whatever it may be called. And if the quick lunch of the business world has had any effect in this direction it is not the unmixed evil some declare it to be.—Philadelphia Press.

THE FIRST AUTOMOBILE.

It Was an Ancient, Self Moving Shrine of Bacchus.

Few, perhaps, are aware that the first automobile, considered in the sense of a vehicle containing within itself powers of locomotion, of which there is any authentic account was a self moving shrine of Bacchus.

This was the invention of Heron of Alexandria, who describes it in his work on automatic mechanism. The shrine in question was mounted upon two supporting and two driving wheels. On the axle of the driving wheels was a drum, about which was wound a rope, which passed upward through the space on one side of the shrine over pulleys and was fastened to the ring of a ponderous lead weight, which rested upon a quantity of dry, fine sand. The escape of this sand through a small hole in the middle of the floor of the compartment containing it allowed the lead weight gradually to descend and by pulling upon the cord caused the shrine to move slowly forward in a straight line.

Heron describes the method of arranging and proportioning the wheels in case it was desired that the shrine move in a circular path. He also shows how the shrine can be constructed to move in a straight line at right angles to each other.

Officials of the patent office overlooked the device of Heron when they granted patents on slot machines, notwithstanding that previously Thomas Eubank, commissioner of patents in 1850, illustrated and described Heron's invention. The mechanism of the latter is almost identical with that in the modern device and simply serves as another proof of the saying, "There is nothing new under the sun."—Washington Times.

Sprung a Surprise.

The man had not settled with the grocer for nearly six months.

The grocer, needing some money, presented his bill.

"Surely," said the man, looking in surprise at the long list of items, "there must be some mistake in this."

"No mistake at all, sir," answered the grocer belligerently. "I am prepared to make affidavit that every item is correct and that the footing is right to a cent. When an account runs as long as this one has run and the customer hasn't kept track of it, he nearly always kicks."

"Oh, I'm not kicking," said the man, proceeding to write a check for the amount. "What surprises me is that the bill is only about half as big as I expected."—Chicago Tribune.

Dreaded the Results.

Doctor—You'll have to accustom yourself to one cigar after meals.

Patient—Oh, doctor, that's pretty hard.

Doctor—Tut, tut! After a time you'll find it easy to give up even the cigar after meals.

Patient—But I'm sure I'll be giving up my meals after the cigars. I've never smoked, you know.—Catholic Standard and Times.

An Artful Dodger.

"How is your boy getting along at school?"

"Splendidly, splendidly! I tell you, my friend, this boy of mine will make his way in the world, don't you fear. During the time he's been going to school they have had thirty-two examinations, and he's managed to dodge every one of them."—Glasgow Evening Times.

TODAY'S GRAIN REPORT.

Furnished by the Weare Commission Co., Union Block, Dixon.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 11, 1902.

WHEAT—There has been a strong wheat market after a short lived dip at the opening. There was some selling at start on fine weather map; but the loss was promptly recovered and prices at their best were ¼ a ½ cent over Thursday. The feature was the moving of Sept to a premium over the Dec. The modern miller was rather bullish, reporting wheat in shock damaged in Nebraska, Illinois, and Missouri. Argentine shipments small, 80,000 bu. Primary receipts 591,000, against 365,000 last year; in northwest 247 cars, against 156. Clearances 265,000 bu. Estimates for tomorrow 105 cars.

CORN—Market has been firmer than yesterday; there has been no further talk of legal proceedings against the July holders; and evidently some support of the July. Prices for July have ranged between 83 and 86½. There has been continued selling of Sept. by the July bulls. Local receipts 287 cars, with 22 cars contract. There were 197 cars and 78,500 bu contract out of private elevators which is the largest contribution of contract corn from this source in a month, estimates for tomorrow 315 cars. There were about 280,000 bu no 2 loaded into vessels. Argentine shipments 1,360,000. Clearances 34,000. Primary receipts 321,000, against 420,000 last year.

OATS—Opened lower on a good weather map, but sold up on covering by shorts and predictions of showers for tomorrow and prices advanced ¼ to 1½. Local receipts 91 cars, contract 42 cars, estimates for tomorrow 120. Clearances 13,000 bu. There was buying by the bull leaders and some local demand from Comstock and others.

PROVISIONS—Opened strong, lard advanced to 12½ for Sept on buying and stop-loss orders. After this flurry was over, the market gradually sold off to yesterday's closing price. Sept pork was very weak on heavy offerings by brokers. Counselman & Day were heavy sellers of Oct pork. There were 22,000 hogs here, or 8,000 over estimate. Prices [illegible] as yesterday. Hogs west 57,000 against 69,550 last year.

FLOWER AND TREE.

There is a pink variety of lily of the valley which is often grown in England, though seldom seen with us.

A palm tree which grows on the banks of the Amazon has leaves thirty to fifty feet in length and ten to twelve feet in breadth.

Standard or "general lay" plants and varieties should be the rule of the beginner. Experiment with new flowers and varieties only in a small way.

Study color effects if you would have a really beautiful garden. The loveliest colors often neutralize each other sadly. Cerise reds and magentas, for instance, should not be close neighbors.

Know the plants as you would people if you would have them respond fully. Find out their habits, their likes and dislikes. The study is one of unfailing pleasure, and it pays rich interest in perpetual bloom.

Lilacs' plants are good for low hedges. Plants a foot and a half apart will soon run branches together, and the foliage is dense from the ground up. The flowers are almost as brilliant as those of the dahlia and are produced freely from July to late October.

SIDE LIGHTS ON HISTORY.

Curious Letters by a Harvard Man Who Served Under Washington.

Some curious side lights on history, as valuable in their way as the more serious studies, are found in a little collection of letters from a Revolutionary soldier which are preserved in the Harvard library. They were written to relatives and friends in New Hampshire by one William Weeks, a Harvard graduate, who was an officer in Washington's army.

Homesickness must have been severe at times, though in one of his letters from Valley Forge this soldier seems to have had a hard struggle between his natural pleasure at the honors which he was fortunate enough to be accorded and his nostalgia. "This Day," he writes, "I must be at Gen'l Sullivan's to take Dinner with him, the other day I had as great an Honour confer'd upon me—I had the Honour to take a Glass of Wine with Gen'l Washington & his Lady—But at the same time I should count as great an Honour to have the satisfaction of seeing, conversing & taking a Glass of Wine with my—Friends at Home."

There is a curious indication of the state of mind in the Continental army at times during the war in another letter, where Mr. Weeks says, "If my Wages were not higher than I expected when at Home, I would by no means tarry, but as they are rais'd, and for the Love I have for the Country, I can by no Means think of leaving the Army."

That the manner of obtaining a Harvard degree has changed radically in the last hundred years appears in a paragraph written at Valley Forge in 1778. Weeks had taken his A. B. three years before that, but evidently was anticipating an A. M. "As the campaign is coming on," he wrote, "I have but little expectation of coming home for my degree." But it appears that in consideration of the $10 which his family forwarded to the college in response to this request the desired honor was conferred.

STAGE LIFE TEN YEARS.

New Crop of Minor Actors Harvested Every Decade.

A new crop of stage people is harvested in the United States every ten years. Each decade marks the beginning of a new epoch in theatrical history.

This fact does not apply so aptly to stars and stage people who dominate in the profession, for the life of these, so far as the public is concerned, is usually somewhat longer. But with the rank and file—those who never rise higher than the level of minor roles—ten years is about the limit of endurance. After having served before the public for that length of time without doing anything sufficiently meritorious or novel to attract unusual attention the actor or actress, as a rule, passes away in so far as the profession is concerned, and a new crop is harvested among the many anxious recruits on the waiting list to fill the depleted ranks.

Men who deal in the talents of stage people to the extent of reaping financial return from their labors are better qualified to "size up" the situation than others, and their experience teaches that few ordinary people of the theatrical profession remain longer than ten years in the business. They either achieve distinction—although this is the exception rather than the rule—or else drop into other lines after having been convinced by experience that the stage, so far as they are directly concerned, offers practically no opportunity for advancement. For this reason the rank and file of the profession is constantly changing, and the popular idea "once an actor always an actor" is easily disproved.—Chicago Tribune.

A Foggy Story.

In London an American, boasting of the superiority of his country, was interrupted by an Englishman, who said: "There's one thing in which this country surpasses America. You never saw on the other side of the Atlantic any fog that could match the one which hangs over London tonight."

"Fog! Fog!" came the unhesitating reply of the irate American. "Why, this is nothing compared with some of the fogs we have around New York harbor. Sometimes the fog is so thick around there that it's a common thing for the captains of the ferryboats to put on extra crews simply to pump the fog out of the cabins. Why, there's a corporation organizing in New Jersey right now to can American fog and supply the British people with 'the real thing.'"—Argonaut.

Natural to Him.

"Your husband," said Mrs. Oldcastle as she again availed herself of the privilege of inspecting the splendid library of the new neighbors, "seems to have a particularly fine taste for articles of vertu."

"Yes," her hostess replied. "I know it. But, then, it's only natural he should have. John's one of the virtuousest persons—for a man—that I ever seen."—Chicago Herald.

Satisfied.

Senator Grab—A man called on me this morning and offered me $1,000 for my vote on a certain measure, but I refused it.

Political Purist—Bravo! You ought to have the approval of your conscience.

Senator Grab—I have. We finally agreed on $2,000.—Boston Post.

Accommodating.

"The shovel fish of South America," said Uncle Jerry, "is the most accommodating fish there is. It has a snout in the shape of a shovel, and it will jump out on the bank and dig bait for you to catch it with."—Baltimore American.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung troble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Rowland Bros. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Don't Fail to Try This.

Whenever an honest trial is given to Electric Bitters for any trouble it is recommended for a permanent cure will surely be effected. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. It's a wonderful tonic for run down systems. Electric Bitters positively cures Kidney and Liver Troubles, Stomach Disorders, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and expels Malaria. Satisfaction guaranteed by Rowland Bros, Only 50 cents.

If a Man Lie to You.

And say some other salve, ointment, lotion, oil or alleged healer is as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, tell him thirty years of marvelous cures of Piles, Burns, Boils, Corns, Felons, Ulcers, Cuts, Scalds, Bruises and Skin Eruptions prove it's the best and cheapest. 25c at Rowland Bros., Druggists.

Need More Help.

Often the over taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by Dyspepsia's pains, Nausea, Dizziness, Headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure. 25c at Rowland Bros. drug store.

Bronchitis for Twenty Years.

Mrs. Minerva Smith, of Danville, Ill., writes: "I had bronchitis for twenty years and never got relief until I used Foley's Honey and Tar which is a sure cure."

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sores, cut and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. Rowland Bros.

No False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. Sold by Rowland Bros.

The Best Liniment for Strains.

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by Rowland Bros., druggists.

SIX SCORE DEAD

Terror of the Mine Gets Loose in a Pit in Pennsylvania.

CORPSES ALL ALONG HIS TRACK

Total Death Roll Will Reach the Number of 125.

Colliery Is a Tomb Which After-Damp Makes Nearly Impenetrable—Those Escaping Did So Over Dead Men.

Johnstown, Pa., July 11.—The first four victims have been brought to the surface from the Klondike section. They were William Robinson, who was unconscious when found; John Retallic, alive and in pretty good shape, and two unknown Slavs, both alive, but unconscious. Dr. John B. Lowman, of this city, who came up with the men, said he passed twenty-five dead bodies, some of them in sitting postures.

Johnstown, Pa., July 11.—Two hundrew miners entombed by an explosion in a mine whose main shaft opens within the limits of this city was news to check with terror the pedestrians on the streets here yesterday. At first the rumor said that all in the "Rolling Mill" mine of the Cambria Steel company were dead or in danger. This would have meant 600 persons. But later reports showed that 400 were safe. The mine is one of the largest in the country, and yesterday 600 men were at work there. When the news of the disaster reached here it spread like wildfire, and in less than a quarter of an hour the Point, an open space at the junction of the Conemaugh and the Stony Creek, was crowded with women and children.

There Will Be 125 Dead.

Across from them, in the center of the green hillside, could be seen the dark opening of the mine. It looked as usual, but the women who looked across the waters saw a meaning there that they had not seen before. Some cried, some moaned, and little children clasped their skirts and cried in sympathy. President Powell Rockhouse issues a statement that the death roll will be about 125 men.

Scores of Homes Bereaved.

It was nearly an hour after the explosion before any general knowledge of what had happened got abroad. Men who came from the mines, escaping with their lives, told the terrible news and soon it spread like wildfire all over the city. In scores of homes there was the most pathetic scenes. Mothers, wives, daughters, sons and relatives were frantic with grief. Hundreds rushed to the point and with sobbing hearts awaited news that did not come from the ill-fated mine.

Mine Full of Deadly Damp.

At the opening across the river from the point the Cambria Iron company police stood guard, permitting no one to enter the mine, from which noxious gases were coming. It was nearly 4 p. m. when all hope of sending rescue parties from the West Mont opening was abandoned. Two men who had escaped from the mine—Richard Bennett and John Meyers—went back two miles to see what assistance could be rendered, but the frightful damp drove them back and they fell prostrate when they finally, after a desperate struggle, reached the outside. Two doctors gave the men assistance and after working with them half an hour restored them.

Some Rescuers Probably Dead.

Their story of the situation in the mine made it clear that the rescue work could not proceed from the Westmont opening, and then hasty preparations were made to begin that sad mission at the Mill Creek entrance. Soon after the news of the explosion reached the Cambria officials Mining Engineer Marshall G. Moore and one of his assistants, Al G. Prosser, made an attempt to enter the mine. They were followed by Mine Superintendent George T. Robinson, but the deadly gases stopped their progress. Mine Foreman Harry Rodgers, his assistant William Blanch, and Fire Bosses John Whitney, John Retallick and John Thomas, were overcome by the gases and it is feared that they perished in a futile effort to rescue the miners.

WHAT THE SURVIVORS SAY

Condition Inside the Mine Gives Little Hope for Any Rescues.

The mining officials of the Cambria company stated that the explosion was one of fire damp. The catastrophe occurred in the section of the mine known among the miners as "Klondike." The name of the section on the company's books is the sixth west of the south main heading. It is about a mile and a half from the main entrance of the Rolling Mill mine. The few survivors who have escaped from the depths of the mine describe the conditions to be frightful in their nature. Outside of the "Klondike" the mines are safe and uninjured. Within the fatal limits of the mine the havoc wrought by the explosion is such as beggars description. Solid walls of masonry three feet through were torn down as though barriers of paper. The roofs of the mine were demolished and not a door remains standing. In the face of these difficulties even the most heroic efforts toward rescue may well seem hopeless.

Two young men who were at work in the "Klondike" when the explosion occurred escaped by way of the air shaft heading up through the Kernville hill from the mine. A fan house, now out of use, stands at the top of this air shaft. This way the young men, sick and dizzy from the nauseous afterdamp, or black damp, reached safety. They told how they had walked across dead bodies to pure air and light. How many they did not know.

The stories of the men who escaped are miraculous in their nature. Tom Foster, an assistant foreman in the "Klondike" mine, was among the first to emerge from the Mill Creek shaft. Shortly after Powell Griffith, a fire boss, came up. Foster was in his office when the explosion occurred. His first thought was for the safety of the men under his charge. With the help of Foreman Roberts an effort was made to replace a few of the shattered doors. All the while the fire damp was closing around them. They did not falter for an instant, but straight into the midst of danger they went.

The thought "save the men" was paramount. Through galleries, into headings, warning and helping, the two men went. Roberts fell, but Foster staggered on, whither he hardly knew. In the midst of the danger he met Powell Griffith, a fire boss. He had faced what seemed certain death in an effort to save his men. Forward they went, dragging a comrade into a possible place of safety here, giving a word of warning there, until human endurance could stand the strain no longer. Exhausted, they staggered into a heading where the fire damp had not entered.

There they rested for a moment and then plunged forward—where they did not know—until finally they wandered into a water level and through it reached a place of safety. Said Tom Foster: "How I escaped I do not know. It seems like a terrible nightmare. Hundreds of times I gave up hope, but from sheer instinct I stumbled forward until I finally reached a place of safety."

THEY ARE NOT ALL DEAD

Dr. Taylor Says He Ran Across Live Men in the Dark Pit.

"They are not all dead. We ran across some of them alive," stammered Dr. Swan Taylor, when he staggered out of the shaft at Mill creek. Just how many, though, dead or alive, he was unable to say. Indeed he could scarcely talk at all for nearly half an hour. He was almost overcome with the foul air in the mine, where he had been with the first rescuing party sent down.

He had been down in the mine for eight hours. He was unable to tell anything about the work of the rescuers he had left behind him. He could only say that they would soon be coming up. It was just an hour though, when the first victim was brought to the surface. It was William Robertson, accompanied by Dr. John B. Lowman.

Said the doctor: "Robertson is in the worst shape. He is unconscious and badly hurt. We passed twenty-five bodies while getting out these four who are alive. We counted them as we went along. They lay in all kinds of positions. One man was sitting leaning against a door, not far from Robertson, just where he had been thrown by the force of the accident. Froth was running from his mouth and he had undoubtedly died in great agony.

"Others were partly standing and partly reclining. They were in heaps and singly. The party with us has nearly reached the actual scene of the explosion and the work of bringing out the poor fellows ought to progress rapidly from now."

DEMANDS SCARCE GOODS

No One but Absolute Self-Governors for School Teachers.

St. Paul, July 11.—"I hope before I die to see the day that it will be regarded as sufficient to expel a teacher from the school room if she gives way for one brief moment to anger." This was the declartion made yesterday by Dr. Thomas E. Shields at the Columbian Catholic Summer School before an audience made up largely of teachers.

Dr. Shields was lecturing on "Social Heredity," and in a discussion of the subject he told of the value of suggestion in education, and he declared that all wretched, irritable and worn-out teachers "must be relieved, in spite of sympathy, from the school room, for the child must not be sacrificed to their downward and degenerate influence."

He Didn't Notice the Train.

Monroe, Mich., July 11.—Fred Zarendt, a Lake Shore section man, was killed by a Pere Marquette engine in the yards at Warner. He was weeding in the middle of the track, and did not notice the approach of the Pere Marquette train, as there was a Lake Shore train coming just ahead on the main track. He leaves a widow and six children.

Second Attempt at Suicide.

Lansing, Mich., July 11.—Mrs. Jas. Giddings, of North Lansing, jumped into the artificial lake at Fifth Ward park, presumably with suicidal intent. A friend followed her and pulled her out. Some months ago she attempted suicide with carbolic acid, and had been confined in the Kalamazoo asylum.

Press Does Not Manufacture.

Louisville, Ky., July 11.—Judge Miller, of the circuit court, rules, in denying the claim of a certain creditor to a lien on the property of The Dispatch Publishing company, that a newspaper plant is not a manufacturing establishment like a rolling mill or a foundry.

Kaiser Has Inside News, Too.

Christiania, Norway, July 11.—Emperor William met an English clergyman in the course of one of his excursions yesterday, to whom he said: "I can greet you from your king and tell you that he will be so well next month that he will be on board a steamer."

Rock Island Gets the Ferry.

St. Louis, July 11.—It is reported in railroad circles that the Rock Island road has finally won its fight for the control of the Wiggins Ferry property, though at an advance of $4,000,000, which would make the total purchase price $9,000,000.

Red Hot in France.

Castries, France, July 11.—Overwhelming heat prevails throughout this region. Five men fell dead from sunstroke while mowing in a field where the temperature was 139 Fahrenheit.

WORSE, THEN BETTER

About Represents the Daily Fluctuations in the Chicago Strike of Freighters

TEAMSTERS WANT TO TAKE A HAND

While Believers in Arbitration are Busy and Hopeful, Too, at Latest Advices.

Chicago, July 11.—Business men of the city took an active part in attempting to settle the strike of the freight handlers yesterday, and some little progress was made. An agreement was secured from the Freight Handlers' union that the organization would abide by the decision of the Chicago board of arbitration, if that organization could arrange meetings with the the general managers of the railroads, and secure their consent also to arbitrate. The request for arbitration was not submitted to the railroads until today. There is grave doubt that the proposition will be favorably received by the railroads when it comes.

What the Roads Are to Do.

But the arbitration people were optimistic. It was said by a member of the Chicago board of arbitration that he had assurances that the railroads would submit a proposition today that would be satisfactory to the men. The roads will not arbitrate, but will post in their freight houses a statement of what they are willing to grant, and the prediction is made that the men will find it satisfactory.

Views of General Managers.

General Manager Hitt, of the Rock Island, and General Manager Barrett, of the Alton, said that they did not see what there was to arbitrate. The general manager of another large western road said that while he did not care to be quoted personally he was confident that no proposition for arbitration would be entertained by his road.

Scheme to Secure Arbitration.

The officials of the strikers, it was decided, were to be asked to agree on an arbitration committee whose action would be final with them. Should the strikers accept the same terms were to be presented to the railroad managers. In this way, it was figured, an arbitration committee agreeable to both sides might be secured. The business men who will be present at the meeting will explain to the strikers the immense financial loss certain to follow a prolonged struggle.

Hopes for Peace Were Vain.

The foregoing was the product of a wild day among the strikers. Things were mixed yesterday morning, for in some quarters it was believed that the strike was practically over, while in others the view was that it was hardly begun. The latter appears to have been correct, for, after three of the most exciting meetings known to local unionism, the freight handlers decided to reject the terms offered by the railroads and to continue their strike. Within an hour after the close of the meetings the strikers, by an appeal to the teamsters, had stopped the cartage of goods to and from nearly every freight house in the city. The teamsters acted as individuals in listening to the appeals of the strikers. By this means they hope to get around the contract made by the union at the recent strike, which prohibits "sympathy" walkouts.

Teamsters Had Another Plan.

Later a committee of ten from the local teamsters' unions decided to call a general meeting of the teamsters last night to decide whether or not a strike should be declared. The plan was to take the matter out of the hands of the officers of the national union. A crowd of freight handlers opened the coercion campaign yesterday, when 300 of them persuaded 150 wagon drivers to unload no goods at the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy freight house.

SOLDIERS NOT YET NEEDED

Governor Stone Refuses a Sheriff the Aid of Troops in the Coal Field.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 11.—In reply to a request from Sheriff Gombert, of Carbon county, asking that troops be sent to Lansford and Summit Hill to preserve order, Governor Stone sent a telegram which said: "Your telegram stating that strikers are gathering in large mobs at Lansford and Summit Hill, in Carbon county, and citizens are attacked and beaten and in danger of their lives, and that you find you are unable to preserve order and protect the citizens, and therefore must call on me for troops, received.

"The law under which the National Guard is called out does not justify action under the circumstances and conditions which you recite. The National Guard are not police officers. Those conditions are entirely within your own province, and with the aid at your hand you ought to overcome the difficulty without the use of state troops. If there is a condition of riot, mob or insurrection which the civil authorities are unable to suppress the governor will not hesitate to send troops; but under no circumstances will he do so unless the civil authority is exhausted after reasonable effort on the part of the sheriff and the protection of life and property demands it."

George M. Davis, T. M. Whildin and John E. Lauer, of Lansford, representing a committee of Carbon county citizens, called upon the governor and explained the situation at Lansford and Summit Hill. The visitors said that the burgesses of these boroughs and the sheriff had exhausted their power in trying to preserve order, and that mob rule prevailed in both towns.

The visitors also stated that the trouble was daily becoming worse, and that it was a question of only a short time when it would be necessary to send troops into the county to preserve order and protect property. The governor promised to keep in touch with the situation, and explained that if he realized that the presence of troops was necessary to maintain order he would not hesitate to order out the militia.

Mitchell to Come West.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 11.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, will leave here tomorrow en route to Indianapolis to attend the soft coal convention. On Monday he will deliver an address at the annual convention of the International Longshoremen's union in Chicago, and will go to Indianapolis Tuesday.

Mob Law on Both Sides.

Tamaqua, Pa., July 11.—The striking miners in the Panther Creek valley are becoming restless and unruly, and the citizens of Lansford, Summit Hill and Tamaqua are preparing to organize vigilance committees to uphold law and order.

Arrested for Acting as Pickets.

Pueblo, Colo., July 11.—Three dozen strikers have been arrested by deputies for acting as pickets in front of boycotted restaurants. About a fourth of the number are women.

HARRY TRACEY, THE TERROR

His Latest Feat Increases His Armament and Commissary.

Seattle, Wash., July 11.—Sheriff Cudihee says that Tracey has been located and surrounded near Auburn.

Kent, Wash., July 11.—Harry Tracey, the Oregon convict, was at the home of E. M. Johnson, two miles southeast of this place, Wednesday night. When he left the house it was with a new revolver and his Winchester, and a plentiful supply of both ammunition and provisions. Tracey sent Johnson to Tacoma to purchase the revolver and ammunition. He threatened to exterminate Johnson's family on the least sign of treachery. The murderer seemed fagged out, and talked very little about himself or his plans. While at the house he spent nearly all the time watching for his pursuers. He left the house after dark, taking Johnson's horse.

Not only did Tracey force Johnson to buy the revolver, but he made him borrow the necessary money in Kent. Johnson went to Tacoma and secured the weapon without sounding any kind of warning to the authorities. He was badly frightened. Upon the return of Johnson from Tacoma Tracey ordered Mrs. Johnson to cook him enough provisions to last a week, and he got that, too.

BOTH HELD IN BAIL

Mrs. O'Malley and Her Lover Charged with Stealing Jewelry.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 11.—Mrs. Aline Ellis O'Malley, wife of Professor Austin O'Malley, of South Bendd, Ind., and William J. Hearin, of New York, were yesterday held to bail in the sum of $1,200 for trial on the charge of stealing jewelry valued at more than $1,000 from Dr. Joseph O'Malley, of this city, Mrs. O'Malley's brother-in-law. William A. Ellis, of New York, Mrs. O'Malley's father, was present and furnished the security, the bond being signed by a local trust company. Mrs. O'Malley's husband was brought to this city some weeks ago suffering from the effects of poison. He has since been a patient in St. Agnes' hospital, but the physicians at that institution decline to state the result of their diagnosis of his case.

His wife, who came from South Bend with him, resided at the home of Dr. Joseph O'Malley until the night of July 1, when she was arrested as she was leaving the house to meet Hearin. The latter was taken into custody while waiting for her at a railroad station. A portion of the jewelry was found in Hearin's possession on the night of his arrest, besides two railroad tickets for South Bend.

Human Flesh and Horse Flesh.

In many essentials all flesh is much alike. A remedy that will cure all manner of pains, sprains, strains, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, chaps, scratches, galls, chafes, sores, lameness, wounds, inflammations and swellings occurring in human flesh, is of equal value for like ailments of the flesh of beasts and is useful in the household for the hurts of childhood and the accidents and ills of every day life as it is in the stable, the gymnasium or the training quarters.

Such a remedy is Greene's Infallible Liniment which is endorsed by the heads of families, breeders, drivers, pugilists, trainers, bicyclists, athletes,—everybody, everywhere, who has used it. In proof of this claim attention is invited to the following testimonials from:
Bob Fitzsimmons, Pugilist.
Harry Gilmore, Boxing Instructor.
W. A. Pinkerton, Pinkerton Detective Agency.
Thos. Enright, Supt. F. Parmlee Stables.
Fred Sullivan, Trainer, M. H. Tichenor & Co.
C. R. Tipton, Horse Breeder, Cadiz, O.

"The rub-out is great stuff, I like it better than anything I ever used." Bob Fitzsimmons.

"Greene's Liniment is in use among my pupils and they agree with me as to its merits. I have no hesitancy in recommending it to athletes and trainers in general." Harry Gilmore.

"I have used Greene's Liniment for some time on my driving horses and saddle horses at home, of which I have eight, and I have also used it with great success on running horses owned by me, particularly, however, on Judge Denny, and I have found it of great service. I have a high opinion of your goods and shall never be without same in my stables." Wm. A. Pinkerton.

"I have tried Greene's Liniment and find it the best I ever used. Thos. Enright."

"It's the best thing I ever used." F. Sullivan.

"I feel that too much cannot be said in commendation of its merits." G. R. Tipton.

These testimonials are published to induce readers to try of this truly Infallible Liniment, then of themselves they will know of its merits.

Greene's Infallible Liniment sells at 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle at drug stores and by the makers, J. W. Greene & Co., 17 Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill. If your druggists haven't it, order direct, but most druggists keep it or will get it for you. Accept no substitute. There is no other liniment that can take its place and do its work,—no other that is like it or "just as good." The makers to prove its worth will send a large free sample in return for this advertisement and 10c. to cover cost of mailing.

Acts Immediately

Colds are sometimes more troublesome in summer than in winter, it's so hard to keep from adding to them while cooling off after exercise. One Minute Cough Cure cures at once. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, throat and lung troubles. Rowland Bros.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. Rowland Bros.

TROOPS GO TO SALINE

Governor Decides to Try and Solve the Race War with the Rifle.

SHERIFF BAXTER PRINTS A LETTER

Intimates That the Executive Has Strayed from the Truth—Another Outbreak.

Springfield, Ills., July 11.—Governor Yates has taken the race troubles in Saline county into his own hands. At noon yesterday he ordered Assistant Adjutant General Ewert to proceed to Eldorado at once with the necessary militiamen to protect the colored citizens of that place and the surrounding country. General Ewert left later in the day, taking with him an officer and sixteen men of the Mount Vernon company. Governor Yates is convinced that Sheriff Baxter is doing nothing in the way of protecting the colored people at Eldorado. Reports received at the executive office are to the effect that the houses of the colored people are stoned and fired upon almost nightly.

Baxter Prints a Statement.

Springfield, Ills., July 11.—An open letter to Govenor Yates from Sheriff Baxter, of Saline county, in relation to the recent outrages on the colored people at Eldorado was received yesterday. The sheriff states that he feels it imperative to vindicate the fair name of Saline county and justify himself in the eyes of the public. He says: "If in doing so and a plain statement of facts convicts your excellency of mendacity there is no citizen of the state who regrets it more than I do."

Says Alston Threw the "Rocks."

He states that on June 17 he received a telegram from Governor Yates asking for information, and that he mailed the particulars at once. He received a letter from the private secretary to Governor Yates on June 18, acknowledging receipt of this letter. Sheriff Baxter further says: "I am satisfied that if any rocks were thrown against the school house they were thrown by Alston himself for the purpose of arousing sympathy throughout the country in his favor, and thereby enable him to levy contributions from the credulous."

Now, Who Threw Them "Rocks?"

Carbondale, Ills., July 11.—Another midnight attack has been made at Eldorado, Saline county, where some time ago a mob broke up the colored normal and industrial school. This last attack was made upon the home of the Rev. Peter A. Green, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church, whose reputation in the community is good. The mob consisted of over twenty white men, and on reaching his home it stoned his house and fired several shots. The preacher returned the fire, and it is believed at least one man was injured. When the mob saw that the colored man would not be frightened they dispersed, warning him of coming danger.

EPWORTH LEAGUE OF ILLINOIS

Gathers at Mount Carmel for the Seventh Annual Convention.

Mount Carmel, Ills., July 11.—The seventh annual convention of the Illinois Epworth League met here with about 500 delegates in attendance, less than half the number expected. A steamboat excursion on the Wabash was tendered the delegates in the evening. President T. S. Marshall, of Salem, is presiding. The convention opened with a league concert under the direction of Rev. F. H. Knight, of Mount Carmel. Rev. D. F. Howe preached the league sermon.

Fifteen hundred people attended the convention at the first two meetings. The speakers were Rev. Dr. Berry, of Chicago, editor of The Epworth League Herald, who conducted the "School of Methods." Rev. Dr. Oldham, of Chicago, spoke on "Personal Evangelism in Heathen Lands." Dr. J. G. Wolfe and Alfred Dixon, both of Chicago, are candidates for state president.

Suicided with a Tin Cup.

Peoria, Ills., July 11.—A few minutes after midnight Frank Cullen, a man who was locked up in jail several days ago suffering with tremens, asked the jailer for a drink of water. A tin cup was handed him and the jailer turned his back. Cullen tore the cup apart and cut his throat. He bled to death within a few minutes.

Christian Endeavor Gathering.

Quincy, Ills., July 11.—The sixteenth annual convention of the Illinois Christian Endeavor Society opened here last night. Seven hundred delegates are present and more expected. Indications are that this will be the greatest gathering in the history of the society in Illinois.

Barkley Heads the Pythians.

Springfield, Ills., July 11.—At an election held by the Illinois division Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias, held in this city, Gen. James H. Barkley, of Springfield, was unanimously elected commander of the division. Forty-five officeres of the uniformed rank were present.

Wrestling Match at Peoria.

Peoria, Ills., July 11.—Jim Watts, of Louisville, was last night given the decision over Charles Wickert, a local man, after one and a half rounds of wrestling. The bout was preceded by a fast six-round bout between Kid Sample and Young Carroll to a draw.

Killed by a Threshing Machine.

Mascoutah, Ills., July 11.—Jacob Schreg, a feeder of a threshing machine, was killed by the breaking of the cylinder on a farm near Fayetteville. A piece of iron was fed into the machine, causing it to burst and killing Schreg.

Will Succeed O'Donnell.

Springfield, Ills., July 11.—Governor Yates has appointed Colonel J. H. Strong, of Chicago, public administrator of Cook county, vice Patrick H. O'Donnell. Colonel Strong is a member of Governor Yates' military staff and his personal friend.

OUT OF THE WOODPILE NOW

"Nigger" No Longer There, According to the New Constitution.

Montgomery, Ala., July 11.—After a bitter factional fight the Democracy of Alabama as represented in the Democratic executive committee of the state yesterday afternoon cast aside the ancient custom of nominating state officers by convention and substitute in lieu thereof a Democratic primary election. The character of the primary has not been decided upon. The South Carolina plan is likely to be adopted.

The overthrow of the convention custom is a direct result of the operation of the state's new constitution. That instrument having eliminated the negro vote, the Democrats feel that there is no longer any necessity for piling up tremendous majorities in the negro counties and permitting those counties to send to Montgomery delegations out of all proportion to their white population. For this reason they adopted the primary idea as a means of holding the vote of the counties down to their respective white voting strength.

BASE BALLIST ARRESTED

Charged with Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 11.—George Mullin, pitcher for the Detroit American League base ball team, was taken from his berth in a sleeping car on a Wabash train here at 5:30 a. m. by detectives of the local police and placed under arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Isidor Mauther, former president of the Fort Wayne base ball club in the late Western association, prefers the charges. Mullin pitched here last year, and Mautner alleges that the player had signed a contract for this season and accepted advance money, and afterward signed with Detroit, where he has been playing this season.

Manitowoc Dry Dock Company.

Manitowoc, Wis., July 11.—Announcement is made of the filing of articles of incorporation of the Manitowoc Dry Dock company, which has purchased the Burger dry dock, of this city, for a consideration of over $100,000, the sale having been made June 11. The names of the local promoters are announced to be James P. Nolan, C. H. Tegan and W. M. Joyce, all of this city; but it is said they are acting for some one else.

LaFollette Men Are Strategists.

Janesville, Wis., July 11.—At the convention held yesterday afternoon to nominate county officers on the Republican ticket the LaFollette section of the party, while in the minority, forced the convention to split the representation on the ticket and secured the nomination of four LaFollette men out of eight.

China to Have Her Own Soon.

Paris, July 11.—The foreign office has received the following from Pekin dated July 9: "The surrender of the administration of Tien Tsin to the Chinese is expected very shortly. France has been for several months in favor of this measure, which has been delayed solely by the disturbances in Chi Li province."

Gain in Postoffice Receipts.

Washington, July 11.—The receipts of the fifty largest postoffices of the United States for June were $4,478,368, a gain of $872,822, or 14 per cent. over the receipts for June, 1901. New York city heads the list with a total of $943,567, a gain of almost 13 per cent. Chicago shows a gain of almost 20 per cent.

Beatrice Has a Bad Blaze.

Beatrice, Neb., July 11.—Losses by a fire which occurred yesterday morning figure up $180,000, with a third of that amount of insurance. The loss of the Klein Mercantile company, $114,000, was the largest. The fire was gotten under control by a brigade of citizens with buckets.

SWEET MISTRESS PRUE

...BY M. L. AVARY

Copyright, 1901, by M. L. Avary.

The expressman lugged in a great bundle of burlap. The girls cut it open, and out tumbled boughs of mountain laurel, plumes of pine and hemlock and gay bunches of bittersweet berries.

"Ah, how it smells of the woods at home!" cried Anne, her face bright with smiles and tears.

The little brothers and sisters in the New England village where she lived before she came to make her living as a stenographer in New York had gathered it.

"Ole Virginny nebber tire!" shouted Margaret as the expressman lumbered in again, bearing a big box.

It was crammed with holly, running cedar—"greenwood lace," Margaret called it—and mistletoe.

"Oh, I love to touch it! Mamma's dear hands put it in." And Margaret sang:

"The mistletoe hung in the castle hall,
The holly branch shone on the old oak wall,
And the baron's retainers [illegible]
Keeping [illegible]
[illegible]
bough!"

The girls had lots of fun decorating the house from top to bottom.

They made their den a bower of green and scarlet. Then they festooned the doors of every boarder in the house. Nobody was too old or new or glum or ugly to be thus prettily reminded that the merry girls up stairs, whose antics kept them awake o' nights and made them swear under and above their breath, were full of the spirit of good will to men. The landlady's apartment was invaded while she was in the kitchen seeing to it that meals went into the dining room properly. When she came up stairs tired and cross, lo! the smell of the forest and the glint of red berries greeted and soothed her.

The little sewing girl who had recently taken the room next to the den came timidly to the door to voice her thanks.

"It makes me think of Santa Claus times," she said, with eyes suspiciously bright. "It was ever so nice for you to do it for a perfect stranger."

"Oh, but you aren't a stranger!" said jolly Margaret. "You are our nearest neighbor, you know. Come right in and have a cup of tea. We're just brewing."

So Prue sat down among them and listened while they talked away about the folks at home. She watched them doing up small packages in white tissue paper with red and green ribbons.

"These are belated offerings," they said. "We were up till 1 last night tying up things. Hope we didn't disturb you. We do jabber so. It's such fun to make up the presents—lots of crinkly paper and gay ribbons, you see, and not much else. We can't give anything that costs over 10 or 15 cents, so we have to make the magnificence of the parcel counterbalance the humility of the gift. It looks like a sin to send such trash, but it reminds kinfolk and friends that we think lovingly of them. Besides, if folks didn't buy trash, what would become of the stores and the salesladies and cashboys they employ? Where would their Christmas be if all of us were too wise to buy foolishly?"

The little needlewoman turned to and helped with the parcels and waxed almost merry. When all the fluffy affairs were incased in coats of brown paper, she helped Margaret carry them to the corner drugstore to mail.

"Good night," said Margaret at Prue's door. "But wait a minute. I'm going to stick a bundle of mistletoe over your door just for luck, you know. And—who knows?—Lord Lovel may walk beneath it and find you here!"

She took a spray out of the bowl of leftovers and, climbing on her stepladder chair, fastened it into the running cedar.

"We have some over our door," she said, laughing.

"Your prince will be sure to come," said Prue.

Margaret's engagement to a bank clerk and Anne's to a budding railroad magnate were matters of common talk in the house.

Prue's room was in reality a slice cut off the den by a thin partition, against which Margaret's and Anne's folding bed stood on one side and Prue's cot on the other. In the night Anne shook Margaret. "Listen!" she whispered.

Through the wall came the sound of weeping.

For a time the girls lay quite still, but presently Margaret whispered:

"I can't stand it any longer. It sounds as if her heart were breaking. Let's go to her."

In a few minutes they were in the tiny room kneeling by the narrow bed.

"Oh," sobbed Prue, "I haven't any body to send anything to—if I had anything to send! And there's nobody to send anything to me!"

"You poor little thing!" said they. "There, there; you can have us. We'll take you right in."

They took her round to the social settlement and whispered a word to the head worker, and the head worker asked her to dress a doll. She brought it into the den and had great fun prinking Miss Dolly out in gay attire. The head worker was much pleased with Miss Dolly's appearance and with the way the tire woman helped about the Christmas tree and the children. So also were the deaconess and the curate.

It took only a day or two for Prue to find a lot of people to love. No young woman who visited the settlement had so many people to love her in so short a time. The deaconess made her useful in the mission. She had a recognized place in the den. She had found a niche.

* * * * * * *

Margaret and Anne came back from the mission in a flutter.

"Mr. Ashburton brought a new preacher home with him tonight. He talks so quietly you would not call him eloquent, and yet he holds us all spellbound. The Bowery toughs were like lambs. He is from the west, Mr. Ashburton says, and he has been recently ordained. A great sorrow drove him into the ministry. He used to be rather wild, and one night over a game of cards he came near killing a man, so near that he thought he had killed him. His friends thought so, too, and got him out of the country before the vigilantes would find him. When he recovered his senses, he was coming back to give himself up, but he got a letter from his sweetheart begging him not to and telling him it would kill her if he did. So he went off to Africa, India or somewhere else and roamed around, shooting elephants and things. After awhile he came home and tried to get himself arrested, but failed because the man he thought he killed is very much alive and doesn't want any case made out. His sweetheart had disappeared. She had no family and had gone away soon after he did. All his efforts to trace her have been unavailing. Think of going around for years burdened with the belief that you had killed somebody!"

Margaret looked to Prue for exclamations, but Prue had fainted. Perhaps she had not had enough to eat of late. Her appetite was poor, and dainties were out of the question.

They got her to bed and watched over her till she seemed to be asleep.

Next morning they were off betimes to work. At 6 Margaret went home to look after Prue, and Anne to the mission to help the deaconess with the mothers' meeting. When Anne came back, she brought the curate and his friend up stairs for a cup of tea.

Margaret and Prue were talking softly together when they looked up and saw the guests in the doorway. Prue's face was transfigured, the face of one whose dead had come to life.

"Oh, Prue, my darling!" the newcomer cried.

And then Prue, who had nobody to love or to love her, was clasped in her lover's arms.

* * * * * * *

"There's always luck in the mistletoe I hang," said Margaret next night, standing on the ladder chair and taking down the faded greens, and the girls heard her singing:

"Your loss came true, sweet Mistress Prue.
There's luck, I know, in my mistletoe."

He Knew His Own.

One of the old time southern negroes went to Boston to make his fortune. After a week of walking up and down he found himself penniless and no work in sight. Then he went from house to house.

"If yo' please, sah," he began when his ring at the front doorbell was answered, "can't yo' gib a p'or culled man wuk ter do or sompin ter eat?"

And the polite answer invariably was, "No, mister; very sorry, but have nothing for you."

All who answered his ring addressed him as "Mr.," but finally shut their doors and hearts against him. Finally he rang the bell at a brownstone front. A gentleman appeared, and the old man began: "Boss, I is starvin'. Can't yo' gimme some victuals?"

"You black, kinky headed rascal," exclaimed the gentleman, "how dare you ring the bell at my front door? Go round the back yard way to the kitchen and the cook'll give you something, you black."

But just there the old man fell on his knees, exclaiming: "Thank de Lawd, I foun' mah own white folks at las'! Thank de Lawd, I foun' 'em—I foun' 'em!"

A Wooden Statue In Tokyo.

In Tokyo, the capital of Japan, there exists a gigantic statue of a woman made of wood and plaster and dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures fifty-four feet. The head alone, which is reached by a winding stairway in the interior of the figure, is large enough to comfortably hold twenty persons. The figure holds a huge wooden sword in one hand, the blade of the weapon being twenty-seven feet long, and a ball twelve feet in diameter in the other.

Internally the figure is fitted up with an extraordinary anatomical arrangement, supposed to represent the different portions of the brain. A fine view of the country is obtained by looking through one of the eyes of the statue.

Training Youngsters to Sling Stones.

It has been said that Asiatic nations excelled others in the use of the sling, and the slingers of an ancient army used their little weapons with terrible effect. "These natives have such skill," says one old historian, "that it very rarely happens that they miss their aim. What makes them so great in the use of the sling is the training given them from their earliest years by their mothers, who set up a piece of bread hung at the end of a rod for a target and let their children remain without food until they have hit it, when the child who is the victor receives the bread as the reward of his skill and patience."

Not the Gardener.

When in 1883 Professor Freeman was examining Battle abbey, he found himself dogged by a person who, as he thought, somewhat officiously obtruded his offers of assistance.

After vainly trying to shake him off he broke forth with: "I don't want your assistance. The Duke of Cleveland promised that I should not be interfered with by the gardeners."

"Exactly so," was the reply. "I hope they have obeyed my orders. I am the Duke of Cleveland."

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Dixon People, And What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs. Wm. Toot, of 815 Sixth street, says: "After being in such a condition with my back and kidneys that I could not attend to ordinary household duties, after having tried everything which came to my notice guaranteed to be sure cures for kidney complaint, in fact after almost dispairing of ever being helped, when Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Leake Bros' drug store brought about benefits so undoubted that I consider them marvelous. I am only too pleased to recommend the preparation. Whenever I feel the first symptom of backache I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and up to date I have never appealed to them in vain."

"Yes; my wife fired the redheaded cook the other day."—Chicago Tribune.

Plymouth Clothing and Shoe House

Great July Clearance Sale

Hot Weather Wearing Apparel at Greatly Reduced Prices. The rainy weather of the past few weeks has somewhat retarded business, consequently our stock in every department are very much larger than they should be at this time of the years. Extraordinary bargains in Clothing, Shoes and Furnishing Goods is expressing it mildly. We must make a quick clearance. Therefore we have reduced the prices on all Spring and Summer Goods regardless of cost, profit or former selling prices. This is an opportunity you should not fail to take advantage of as the savings represented on every purchase during this sale is of no small consequence.

Men's Clothing

Our Men's Spring and Summer Suits. Stock is much larger than it should be at this time of the year. We must get it reduced in the quickest possible time. Stock taking time with us is almost here and we would much prefer to invoice the money than the suits. Therefore if you are contemplating the purchase of a spring and summer suit, now is the time and here is the place where you can without a doubt save the most money. Every Men's Suit in our House, None Reserved, that sold earlier in the season at 12.50, 13.50 and $15 now in the July Clearing Sale at $8.95

The Suits in this sale at the above price $8.95 must be seen to be appreciated as printers ink can not do them justice. We would kindly call your attention to the fact that it would be impossible for us to display a sample of all the suits on sale in our show window. But we will have as many suits in our window as it is possible to display them to a good advantage. We kindly solicit inspection by the most critical skeptical and prudential buyer as never have such good suits as these been offered at such low prices as this $8.95
